The Whitehall Foundation, through its programs of research grants and grants-in-aid, assists scholarly research in neuroscience. Research grants offer between $90,000-$225,000 for up to three years, and grants-in-aid offer $30,000 over a one-year period. The foundation emphasizes the support of young scientists at the beginning of their careers and productive senior scientists who wish to move into new fields of interest. The deadline for LOIs for both grants is Jan. 15. >> Read more

Teaching
The Marion and Jasper Whiting Foundation awards fellowships to present and prospective teachers, with an emphasis on teachers currently working at the college or university level, to enable them to study abroad or at some location or locations other than that with which they are most closely associated. The aim is to stimulate and broaden the minds of teachers so as to improve and enhance the quality of their instruction. Grants of $5000 are primarily for travel and related expenses and not as salary substitutes, scholarships or grants in aid. The deadline for LOI submissions is Jan. 12. >> Read more
